ABSTRACT:
Many benefits can be obtained by using computer, one of them is to get information. In this scientific research, the writer tries to introduce the aircraft and provide the information to children and adolescents so they know more about types of airplane in a brief and interesting way for using animated display that makes it easier to understand. Aircraft information contained in this research is historical information of the aircraft, helicopters, fighter aircraft, passenger aircraft, transport aircraft (cargo), aircraft reconnaissance. View given in the form of images, text, sounds by using animation techniques colors, shapes, text and buttons. When viewed in the terms of manufacture, is not so difficult because in Macromedia Flash MX there are features that facilitate in making the menu look like the toolbox.
