

BUSINESS APPLICATIONS (SHOP ONLINE) DAAR-ELECTRONIC.COM BASED ON PHP, MYSQL AND DREAMWEAVER

ANDI MULYADI, MAUKAR, SIK.,MM

Professional Program, 2006

Gunadarma University

<http://www.gunadarma.ac.id>

key words: business, shop online, daar- electronic.com

ABSTRACT :

Daar-eLectronic.com is a company / online store that provides information on the latest electronic products as well as sell electronic produkproduk located in Makassar. Lack of time due to busy work so that the general public can not visit the sales centers of electronic products. As for business people who usually have a problem with a place of business, operational costs and promotion costs are also puzzled to find any alternative that can solve this problem. Finally, the idea arose from the author to provide a solution to the problem, only with a business application (TokoOnline) problem faced by the public and most small businesses can be solved. In this study, the authors use other methods than the usual. By gathering the necessary tools that the author went on to explain steps taken from design to manufacture of the outline. Results from the writing of Business Applications (TokoOnline) This is a local businessman to run the business even with relatively small capital and the public can obtain up to date information about electronic products without having to go to the centers of electronic sales. Public can also buy these products simply by selecting a product and then see the detail product and then stuffed into shopping bags. If you want to buy it just by doing a checkout complete identity and e-mail address. Products ready for delivery after meeting several conditions of the online store.