THE INTERNAL CONFLICT OF THE HOMOSEXUALS IN BROKEBACK MOUNTAIN AND LELAKI TERINDAH (A PSYCHOLOGICAL APPROACH)

Ryan Riskan Maulana, Prof. Dr. Indiyah Imran

Undergraduate Program, 2006

Gunadarma University

http://www.gunadarma.ac.id

Keyword: CONFLICT, HOMOSEXUAL, PSYCHOLOGICAL

ABSTRACT:
Human as social creatures, means that they have to live together with their society. Their relationship with other people will be developing from the relation with members of the family until other people in society. When they entered their teenage era and during puberty, they will interact with their opposite sex. However, we can not denial that in society we had found same sex relationship such as, female and female or male and male, that called as homosexual. The research want to find out and describes the internal conflicts of the homosexual in the story of Brokeback Mountain and Lelaki Terindah. The aim of this study is to describe the internal conflict of the homosexual. To get the data from the novels, the writer used qualitative method. This method is descriptive; it means that all the data will be presented in the form of quotations to give proof that the statements are based on the novels. The internal conflict of homosexuals was caused by their worried, whether because of their family and society will accept the fact that they have different sexual orientation.