ADJUSTMENT OF EARLY ADULT MEN IN-LAW WHO LIVE WITH THE WIFE'S PARENTS

Lia Yuliyana, Ira Puspitawati, SPsi, MSi

Undergraduate Program, 2008

Gunadarma University

http://www.gunadarma.ac.id

Key Words: early adult men, live, wife parents

ABSTRACT:

Someone who decided to get married certainly will face a new life, new surroundings and new family, so marriage both partners must learn to adjust to the demands and responsibilities. While not rare at this point the individual after marriage and then decided to stay with his in-laws for reasons not yet have a house or other reasons. Not only the womens all-in-law live with, sometimes the men, many of which every male was living with in-laws after marriage. This study aimed to find out how and son-in-law relationships early adult men who lived with the law, how the self-adjustment in early adult-law who lives with his in-laws, why the early adult-law who lives with his in-laws have such adjustments.. And this research approach uses interviews with the general guidelines and nonparticipant observation. Based on research on early adult-law who lives with her in-laws, the son-in-law who live with have a good relationship with the law because of the attitude of the law concerned with the provision of advice, the freedom granted by law, the existence of the relationship with the near future. Based on the results of research on the subject of man's early adult daughter who lives with her in-laws, then the adjustment in early adult-law who lives with his in-laws have a good general adjustment. In particular, adjustment yourself while staying with in-laws have the aspect of empathy and respect the law, treat the feeling of in-laws, a good reception from the in-laws, the existence of happiness, optimism, saying honest, responsible, and there is a good adaptation. Based on research on the subject of early adult-law who lives with his in-laws, the son-in-law who lived in the house has a good adjustment because of the good relationship with the law and the environment, good feelings and attitudes, make certain activity and motivation within the subject . In this respect there are similarities between the first and second subjects in accordance with the theory of the factors that influence the adjustment factor, among others: the ability to maintain relationships with others, the dream, and there is a good feeling and attitude during his stay with the in-laws while in the The third subject, among others. the ability to mepertahankan yangn good relationships with others, the existence of certain interests and hobbies and the dream.